BOHDI DAY

This is the day to commemorate Sakyamuni Buddha's attainment of Awakening. According to legend, the historic event took place on December 8, as the first faint light of day began to glow in the eastern sky. By his example, Sakyamuni demonstrated that it was possible for man to become a Buddha — a fully Awakened Person. All human beings, therefore, are in possession of this potentiality — Buddha-Nature — which, when awakened and cultivated, enables them to achieve supreme wisdom and compassion. This day signifies the dawn of humanity's universal emancipation from suffering and unawareness.

Gratitude is born of Awakening

During the Veteran's Day weekend, our Makawao temple was graced with the Shin Buddhist teacher, Rev. Tetsuo Unno of the Pasadena Buddhist Temple.

Rev. Unno's dharma message focused on the theme, "What Does It Mean to Not Only Know About But To Experience Shin Buddhist Truths?" The Seminar revolved around the following example illustrating the transformative truth of the Shin Buddhist life:

"A deckhand on a freighter falls overboard. The ship sails off. The deckhand treads water for hours but in the end realizes that there is no way he can save himself. At that point, the deckhand gives up his futile efforts to save himself and entrusts his whole being, both body and mind, to the Ocean and its Vow that promises the deckhand, "You, Deckhand, Listen to Me. Just Focus on and Place Your Trust in Me. Don't be Afraid, Even of Dying. I Promise, I Vow to Float and Save You!"

Left with no choice, the deckhand responds to the Ocean's Vow, entrusts his whole being to that Vow and is "Saved."

Rev. Unno's dharma presentation was rich and captivating as he wove spiritual insights and anecdotal examples about living dharma teachers and practitioners. He also amplified his message with Western psychological and philosophical, literary and religious insights. The audience seemed to connect with his explanations of the inner workings of the Shin Buddhism.

Fundamental to Rev. Unno's message, as I heard it, was the necessity of each Shin Buddhist practitioner to reflect and realize his/her inner depth from which salvation emerges. This takes the traveler out of the abstract speculation of the spiritual journey and grounds him/her in a true experiential reality of Shin Buddhism. Here this follower experientially encounters the illuminating Vow of Amida Buddha's unconditional Wisdom and Compassion as Shinjin/Faith. This is the turning point in which any doubt in the unconditional affirmation and acceptance of Amida's Vow is eliminated. "Left with no choice, the (person) responds to the Ocean's Vow, entrusts his whole being to that Vow and is Saved."

Hence, given the many serious concerns regarding the state and condition of our present temples and their future, the urgency for our Shin Buddhists to awaken to their spiritual core, Shinjin/Faith, becomes paramount. In the words of Rennyō Shōnin, the eighth Hongwanji successor to Shinran Shōnin, "The flourishment of a temple is not determined by largeness of the congregation nor by the impressiveness of its external forms. The flourishment of a temple is determined by the awakening of even one person of Faith/Shinjin."

For the reader's curiosity, study and reflection on Unno Sensei's analysis of the Shin Buddhist spiritual life, a copy of his Seminar handout is available at the temple office, upon request.

MAKAWAO HONGWANJI PRESCHOOL

By: Lei

Halloween Family Fun Night was celebrated at the preschool on a cool fall evening of TREATS and no TRICKS. The children looked so awesome dressed in their costumes as they greeted the teachers at the school doors.

As we prepare for thanksgiving, we give thanks to all of you and a wonderful HAPPY HOLIDAYS.

Just a reminder if you would like to register your child for preschool, please contact the school and place your child on the waitlist. Your child must be three years of age by August 1st to enroll. Call 572-7883 for more information.

President's Message...

Hi, I hope you all had a wonderful Thanksgiving?

Speaking of being thankful, this reminds me of a Dharma message that the Rev. Marvin Harada gave. During one of Rev. Harada's discussion group, he noticed a young man very sad. When asked what the problem was, the young man said he has ALS Disease and may not see his son graduate from high school nor see his daughter get married. Rev. Harada told the young man to write a letter to each of his children to be read when he was gone. The following week, the young man gave a letter to Rev. Harada to read. In this letter, the man wrote:

I have ALS- and I am grateful. I am grateful to retire early to be with my family. I am grateful I have family and friends that are so supportive and hopeful. I am grateful I can still walk and get around. When that is gone – I am grateful I can still use my hands to feed myself. When that is gone – I am grateful I can still talk to my family. When that is gone – I am grateful I can still breathe and laugh and feel. When that is gone – I am grateful I had a wonderful life. And when that is gone – Namu Amida Butsu. By Scott Morris.

I am now a care giver to my mom. I feel the difficulties she is going thru. I now understand and feel for those who are or were care givers to their loved ones. I am grateful that I am healthy and able to help my mom. I am grateful for my cousin, Arlene, and my good friend Glenna for their support. And, to my wife, Sharon, who helps me care for my mom.

From the Loving Kindness Meditation – Metta: May all beings be happy and well.
Namu Amida Butsu.

- Ladies: Clean inside temple. Polish altar. Wash temple windows and clean Nokotsudo.
- Jr. Y.B.A.: Clean restrooms.
- Judo Club: Clean Judo Hall and porch. Weed in front of temple property and along the Kihei side of property.
- Cub Scouts: Clean windows and screen in the Social Hall.
- Boy Scouts: Weed around minister's residence, Project Dana House, and Boy Scouts House. Pick-up and dump rubbish.

We need help cleaning the kitchen. Clean refrigerator, stove, oven, sink, and storage area.

Lunch will be provided

“Wow!”

How was the recent seminar with Rev. Tetsuo Unno? To quote my esteemed Dharma friend, Andy Hirose, all I can say is, “Wow!”. Powerful, clear, and profound message; at the same time engaging and even entertaining. Unno Sensei’s message would be hard to summarize, but one might just say:

Ultimately, we have no choice, no control over our final destiny. We are powerless to save ourselves. And after all is said and done, in the final analysis, and after all things are considered, we have nothing left to do except to recite the Nembutsu and entrust our entire being to the power of Amida’s Vow.....the Vow that calls out, (quoting Rev. Unno) “You, ____ (your name)_____, listen to me; just single mindedly place your trust in me; right now, at this instant, Now. Don’t be afraid... even of dying. I promise and vow to save and protect you!”

This gathering did not just “happen” spontaneously. The successful seminar was possible only because of the efforts and time of many people. Our sincere thank you’s to Rev. Tets and Sumi Unno, Rev. Will and Kiyo Masuda, the seminar planning committee members Sharon N., Bobbi N., Diane K., and Cliff T., President Floyd N., and to food chairperson Carol Yamamura and helpers Ray Nakagawa and Janet Kamasaki (fantastic food spread).

And mahalo to everybody who came out to listen and participate. What a tremendously precious and unrepeatabe opportunity to hear the Buddha Dharma!

Gassho,

Cliff

NOVEMBER 2016

LET US CONSIDER...

Bishop Eric Matsumoto

As we witness what is unfolding in our Nation after the 2016 Elections, there is room for concern as emotions and feelings run high, but let us have faith in ourselves as residents of America and also as humanity.

For me, the wise counsel of Prince Shotoku comes to mind. Prince Shotoku lived in a period of uncertainty and needed to unite various factions so that the country could be unified, better organized and prosper. He mentioned some guiding principles which are still important for us, today, to consider. As Article 1 in his 17-Article Constitution, he emphasized the value of harmony in society with the words "Harmony is to be valued." He sought harmony and collaboration among the various individuals and factions that were divided and wanted them to work together towards a common goal, a unified nation. Prince Shotoku realized how we, many times, each tend to emphasize and focus on our own viewpoints and disregard that of others to the point of not even lending an ear. He realized that if we each continue to do this we would get nowhere as no discussion could even begin. The Prince was very astute and sensitive to the fact that, too often, we are driven by our egos and also our emotions and feelings like anger, fear, doubt and arrogance. Thus, in Article 10, he shares his wisdom when he says,

Let us cease from wrath and refrain from angry looks. Nor let us be resentful when others differ from us. For all people have hearts and each heart has its own leanings. Their right is our wrong, and our right is their wrong. We are not unquestionably sages, nor are they unquestionably fools. Both of us are simply ordinary people. How can any person lay down a rule by which to distinguish right from wrong? For we are all, one with another, wise and foolish, like a ring which has no end.

From A Guide to Japanese Buddhism-BuddhaNet www.buddhanet.net/nippon/nippon_partIII.html

He sincerely revered The Three Treasures of Buddhism which also speaks of the middle way in which we avoid extremes. As the Historic Buddha shared if the strings of a lute are too tight it will break, on the other hand, if the strings are too loose the lute will not produce its music. What is needed are mutual respect, balance, trust, participation and collaboration and adherence to the virtue of non-violence by all of us. Moreover, we should see the value of interdependence by realizing that we are all interrelated and interconnected as Indra's Net, beautifully and profoundly, shares. It is a fact that we affect each other locally, nationally, internationally and even galactically through our thoughts, words and actions and how we approach a matter is just as important as the goal or objective. The intent of this message is not to dissuade people to express their thoughts through peaceful rallies and methods. As we face our challenges (to alleviate suffering and promote peace, happiness and people's welfare) as a Nation, this message is suggesting that we must consider ways, approaches and outcomes which emphasize the oneness and equality of life with all its diversity, foster mutual respect and harmony amongst all, and will nurture unity in our Nation and the World from today and into the future. In Hawaii, I believe, the Spirit of Aloha will guide us in our endeavors. As a Jodo Shinshu Buddhist, I say, may we (all) be guided and inspired by an All-Inclusive Wisdom and All-Embracing Compassion.

Let us "Mutually reflect, respect and interact."

CHILDREN'S DHARMA CLASS

When someone does something nice for you, how do you let them know you appreciate it? How do you feel inside when someone does something nice? These were the questions our Dharma children were asked on Nov. 20th. Their main response was saying thank you. The children enjoyed the readings of The Thankful Book by Todd Parr and The Thank You Book by Mo Willems. We then discussed some other ways we can show gratitude.

To culminate the lesson on gratitude, a placemat was made by the children which included drawings of what they were thankful for as well as the words of thanksgiving. On the placemat, was also Mr. Turkey with pressed fall leaves for his feathers. Thank you to Marilyn Morikawa who gathered and pressed the colorful fall leaves from Michigan.

Mrs. Kiyo Masuda had a one-to-one session with an older child. Her objective was that the student will learn gratitude and our expression of giving thanks and appreciation extends beyond family and friends and receiving; there is nature and its natural beauty. The Buddhist teaching: We are interdependent not only with our family and friends but also with nature as a source of life and aesthetic awe. For this we are grateful. She used The Secret of Saying Thanks by Douglas Wood. "Douglas Wood offers spiritual homage to nature, home and family. . .we can say thanks for the wonders we sometimes take for granted in life." (from the fly of the book). After discussion, on quality stock stationary card, student wrote and illustrated what gratitude meant to her. She will be give the card to someone she'd like to thank, e.g. Grandma, sibling.

Our next keiki (children's) Dharma Sunday will be on Dec. 11th (9:00 a.m.) The keiki will learn about Bodhi Day.

Words of Thanksgiving

We are truly grateful for this wonderful food, a gift of life. May we share its benefits with all beings. As we partake of this food, let us remember Amida Buddha's compassion, which surrounds all people and all forms of life. Namo Amida Butsu. Itadakimasu (we gratefully receive).
